

Inez Ngiau
Occupational Therapist - Professional Profile

Professional:

Inez Ngiau graduated from Curtin University of Technology with a Bachelor of Science in Occupational Therapy. She is now working at Perth Integrated Health Clinics as an associate occupational therapist for Directors – Ian Wee and Lucy Liongue and also on a consultancy basis. She is qualified in providing assessments and hands on treatment for neuromuscular based issues to clients of all ages. In addition to that, she has also been trained to incorporate both the Key Module and Huber within clients' care plans.

Inez has also been widely exposed to the Whole Body Vibration (WBV) Australia by representing PIHC at a variety of expos in 2009 and 2010 to promote the health and clinical benefits of this machine to others. She is also qualified in designing treatment plans for clients incorporating the usage of the WBV within their home environments.

Inez also has a keen interest in cycling, and has been working with a large range of cyclists during her associate clinical hours. She has been involved with hands on neuromuscular treatment for cyclists and has also worked alongside Ian Wee in a large range of bike ergonomic assessments. Inez has also participated in a wide range of cycling activities, more recently the PIHC Kep Track Adventure and also in the Cyclosporitif events.

Inez also has been very passionate about working with children and has done so through her clinical placements during her studies at university (locally and abroad) and through voluntary work during the holidays. She was also the Project Leader of the recent PIHC School Holiday Program in 2010.
